Comiskey Finds Baseball Slow

Chicago, April 18 .- Complaint that American League games are being played too slowly was made by C. A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, to President Johnson to-day. A number of the games have lasted well over two hours, and in Chicago particularly they have been slow, due, however, mainly to the number of passes issued by the pitchers.

Comiskey noted to-day that Faber pitched eleven balls to two St batters, which, if maintained as an average, it is said, would account for some of the slowness.

But we know of nothing in all the wide and winding realm of sport that quite parallels the case of the eminent Philadelphian.

Speaking of Ups and Downs.

its overpowering strength.

Here is this same manager piloting a ball club that finished last a year ago: WINSTON AT TOP and to-day looks to be the weakest machine in the major leagues. Connic s almost sure to finish a bad last once more. We doubt if all the dynamits used at Verdun could lift him higher than the cellar adobe he now adorns.

Leader of Extremes.

Apparently Fate has doemed manager Mack to be a leader of wide Silent Boxer Victor in Fast extremes. The game's allotted destiny has deemed him to have a ball club that is either too good or too bad for the game. And lest it be forgotten the span of his great clubs is far longer than the regime of his poor ones. Charles M. Only look at the individual stars he has developed-Plank, Coombs, Bender, Collins, Baker, Barry, McInnis, Schang, Oldring, Strunk, Dygert, Murphy, Davis and many others. No man has given cleaner or better baseball, and yet to-day, beyond fifty, when he should be reaping the reward of wonderful achievement, he is starting all over again with little profit back of him for

The Situation.

We wonder how Mack feels to-day with a club doomed to last place pennant years behind him. If he could make no money with a pennant winner,

The ways of Fate are beyond all understanding. The man who financed the American League, the man who stood a chance to lose $500,000 and not make a cent, has been crowded out through money troubles. We refer to n the playing standpoint, Connie Mack, is now headed so swiftly for the Sub- ing terranean Country that nothing can check his descent. It was the machine built up by Mack that stopped the wild charge of the National League and prevented the younger circuit from being known as a dependent body. The Giants had won the world championship in 1905. Cubs and Pirates had utterly crushed the American League winners in 1907, lumbia Club secured three places, wh Cubs and Firstee had utterly crushed the American League winners in 1901.

The National League had won the interleague series four years out of five. And then Mack arrived with his legion in 1910, dismantled the New Jersey and Connecticut club the Cubs and whipped the Chants to a froth, thereby reestablishing his circuit p

Building Back.

No game can keep men like Connie Mack and John McGraw down very not rated, as they participated in few Both are fine organizers team builders and though suppressed for matches ell will get their balance again and start moving upward. We recall the club that Mack sent West just ten years ago. It was one of the poorest looking machines a big league club ever had in the field. It was a joke outfit in almost every particular. But two years later Connie was giving Hughie Jennings a September battle for the top, and two years after that he had the
